SATURDAY SEMINAR FOR PRESBYTERIANS

The Presbytery of Carlisle is holding its annual Saturday Seminary for Presbyterians on January 23rd, 2010, from 8:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Who should consider going? First time elders and deacons, and anyone else who wants to learn more about the topics being offered. For more information see the bulletin board or the registration flyers that are on the table in the lobby. The event is free, and lunch is only the cost of a free will offering if you decide to eat there.

Looking for some fun on New Year's Eve? All members of the church are invited to a party on December 31, which starts at 8:30 p.m. There will be games and events planned for youth and children, and everyone is invited to bring their favorite games to play. Each family is asked to bring a drink and a snack to share. Some other foods will be provided.

Youth (grades 6-12) are invited to stay overnight and should bring pillows and sleeping bags. No youth may leave the event without parent permission, and a registration form for youth must be completed prior to the event. These forms are available from one of the youth leaders or may be found on the table in the entryway. The overnight stay will end at 8:00 am on January 1, 2010.

Activities for children (up through fifth grade) are planned through midnight. If any children want to stay overnight, they MUST have a parent stay with them and bring sleeping gear.

Plan on joining this safe and fun-filled celebration!
